Thanks for viewing. was a mix of young (wax-like) and old (crumbling) coals, and I could only see a few inches of the wicks before they were obscured. To my surprise, the scents were amazing, and the group of women around me became quiet, waiting for me to finish. The next few minutes went by like a minute or two, and when I finished, the entire family was awestruck, not believing that I was able to create such a strong scent with absolutely no candles. I then turned to the children and asked them what their thoughts were. The response was amazing. The girls thought that I was a magician, and the boys thought I was a very good witch. I then asked them if they would like to make some candles for their family and friends, and they were more than happy to do so. They loved the idea of a 'designer' scent, and I was proud to be able to give something back to them that they loved so much. In the next part of the process, we discussed the ingredients we used to make the fragranced waxes. The ingredients were natural and came from the Amazon, and were safe for use in candles.
